We Honor

A dry humor and an ever-ready smile which we knew came from the very heart of a friendly man . . . a kindly voice capable of turning quickly into steely firmness when necessary . . . polished gentleman, suave; one of the faculty fashion plates . . . all these things are part of the makeup of one swell guy and a darn good teacher.

To you, Mr. Durkee, we dedicate The Quaker of 1955. We shall not forget you—ever.

Our Theme...

"The chessboard is the world, the pieces are the phenomena of the universe, the rules of the game are what we call the laws of Nature. The Player on the other side is hidden from us. We know that His play is always fair, just and patient. But also we know, to our cost, that He never overlooks a mistake, or makes the smallest allowance for ignorance."

Our teachers, the bishops of the chessboard, share the responsibility of the education and character formation of all of us. Indispensible are the lower classmen, represented by the pawns. Like the knights on the battlefields of old, the boys of our teams fight for the glory and honor of our school. Highly respected are the leaders of our school, the Kings and Queens. Surely, there is one day in the life of every boy and every girl when he is a King and she is a Queen. That is high school graduation day.

Transportation . . . personnel . . . buildings . . . taxes . . . parents . . . pupils . . . these are just a few of the problems the Board of Education faces week after week and month after month. They work for no pay but they probably do the most important community service of all.

Through our school years the Board certainly must have been surprised and perhaps often dismayed at the swarms of new children every year. How our community grew in our years at OPCS! A big new school and then, before it showed real signs of wear, a big addition. What a lot of time and hard work they must have given to their jobs! We thank them.

Administration

Distinguished men . . . Mr. Handel—reserved, calm, remembered for his pipe, mustache and worldly air . . . Dr. Swanson—a sight we shall recall always—smiling from his height of seven feet at a small seventh grader . . . Mr. Fuller—always looking as if he just stepped from a haberdashery; polite, friendly, but firm to fit the occasion. Scholarly gentlemen always ready to help.

Here Is Our Faculty...

The close, friendly relationship between the teachers and the students is one of the memories which will live after we leave Orchard Park Central School. Did we have a problem, we could go to any teacher and get help, both during and after school hours. Talk was as between two friends, not as between teacher and pupil. Particularly, the relationship was personal and friendly in the many "after-school activities" which most of us found so profitable. We soon learned at OPCS that our teachers were nice people to work with. We shall remember that our clubs and organizations, our publications, our games and our musical groups called for a lot of extra work by students and teachers. Also, remember the informal atmosphere in most of the classes, the laughs and jokes which made many hard problems a little easier. Best of all, we learned and learned well.

We Introduce Our Seniors

As we look back through our four years of high school, joys, laughs, dreams, sorrows and much hard work come crowding our memories. For every dark moment there was a laughing one, too. This last year was the happiest and the busiest. It doesn't seem possible that we crowded in so many activities. There were the joys of having so many successful dances, the play and the drives to sell magazines and cards. The trip to Washington fulfilled one of our dreams and certainly we had enough laughs to make us recall them long years hence. Now that graduation lies just ahead, we look forward with a little regret, realizing at last that we might not all be together again. Soon we shall go our separate ways—some to jobs, others to college. But we shall never forget the joy of having been members of the Class of '55 at Orchard Park.

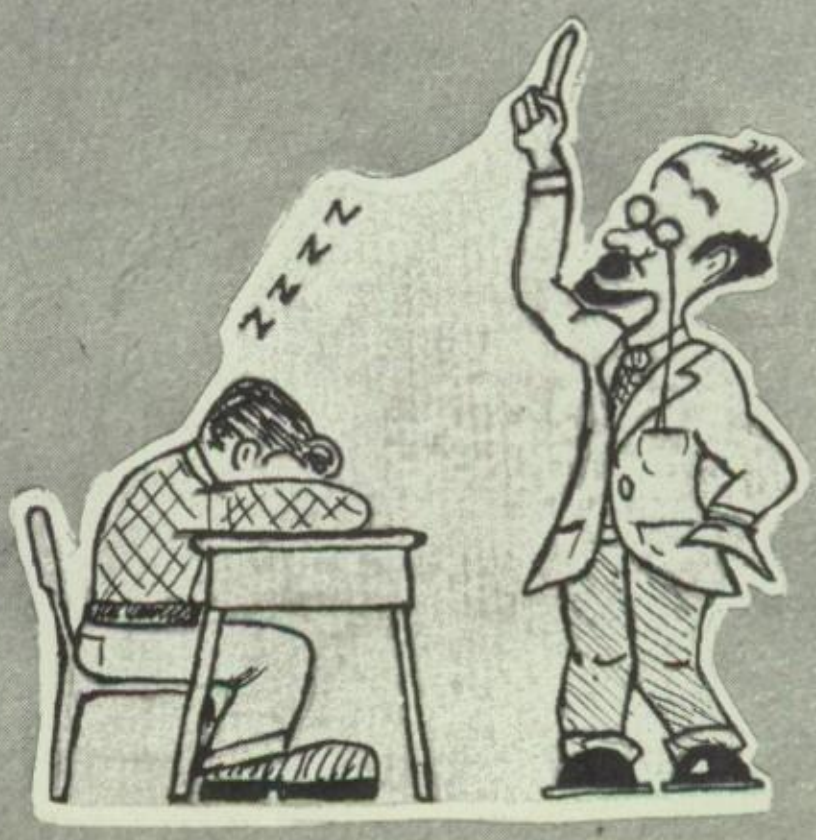
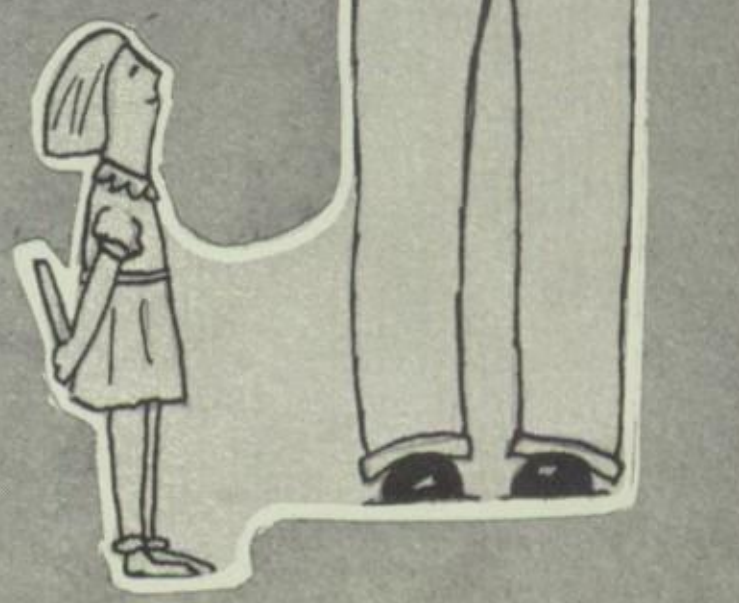
"HOMEWORK"



ZZZZ

Our Classes...

Here are the pawns of the chessboard—the classes of our school—seventh and eighth grades who, if the race to the cafeteria proves anything, rival any track team in speed . . . enthusiastic freshmen, giving nicknames to everyone, including teachers—sophomores, much more interested in their noisy parties and crazy bermudas than in their world history and geometry—and juniors, at last proud possessors of their school rings, always eager to do anything . . . except study.



Class Officers

10th GRADE—Jean Rengert, secretary; Jack Besch, treasurer; John Paul, president; Donald Laks, vice president.

11th GRADE—Standing: Patricia Myers, secretary; George Bigenwald, treasurer. Sitting: Barbara Hart, president; Jack Steisslinger, vice president.

9th GRADE—Standing: Raffeala Martino, secretary; Thomas Wakeman, vice president. Sitting: James Schwedt, president; Cindy Lunn, treasurer.

This school year was an eventful one for all classes. The Seventh Grade promoted a very successful band concert. The Eighth Grade was busy with it's studies, preparing for high school. A football dance was held by the Freshman in the Fall. Something new was tried when the Sophomores sponsored an ice-skating party. The Juniors, again using clever names for dances, had an exceptionally prosperous year topped off by the Junior Prom. The upper classes enthusiastically supported the operetta.
These activities brought each class closer to their common goal—graduation.

8th GRADE—Joanne Ujvari, secretary; Sydnie Evenden, treasurer; George Randolph, president; Lois Young, vice president.

7th GRADE—Delbert Engel, president; Thomas Reese, treasurer; Daniel Frame, vice president; Roberta House, secretary.

Working hard

The THINKER!

Working on this yearbook!

We regret that many of the Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth graders did not have their pictures taken for the yearbook. You will have to blame the "virus".

Chief?????

Dog or girl?

Caught by surprise!

What's so interesting?

Don't worry, boys.

Did we surprise you?

Whose budget, William?

Barb—we're shocked!

We're Never Idle...

Important to chess are the castles. Studies, alone, cannot build the well-rounded personalities required by our modern times. Here at Orchard Park our clubs and literary organizations help to teach students how to get along with each other while they work together. The Student Council sees that the activities of the school are run smoothly and efficiently. Music always has played an important part in our school life. With the operetta, the bands and orchestras and the many singing groups, music is a major activity at Orchard Park.

Good luck Dear
D. Holmwood

The hard-working yearbook staff spent long hours after school and on week-ends preparing this book for you. Without the aid of Mr. Saul and Mr. Holmwood, the job could not have been completed. Another task we undertook was the distribution of the individual class pictures. We thank all those who have worked so hard to make this book the best yet. Some staff members are not included in the photographs. Sorry; blame "the virus".

The Passing Bell

THE PASSING BELL is more than just a school newspaper. It is a great "teacher". We learn to write, we learn responsibility, co-operation and even journalism. We believe that most of our staff has discovered that working together gets results; may this last us all our lives! THE PASSING BELL fills a real need in the school —you should see them reach for the paper when the salesmen reach the homerooms.

The Quill

The QUILL plays an important part in the life of Orchard Park Central School. In this magazine stories, poems and essays written by the students are published and every year staff members strive to produce an even bigger and better QUILL. As our school grows, so will the QUILL and so will the caliber of its literary accomplishment.

A Capella . . .

One of the largest music organizations, under the direction of Mrs. Baltzer, is A-cappella. From the 150 voices a smaller group, known as the Choraliers, was chosen and again, the Parkettes, were picked from the Choraliers. These groups have presented many fine concerts during the year.

Did you ever pass M 1 during fourth period and hear voices ringing? If so, you were listening to the Junior High Chorus, who met the first twenty minutes of their lunch hour on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. One hundred voices sang three-part music under Mrs. Baltzer's direction. Being Junior High students, they sang with special vim and vigor.

Junior High Chorus

Senior Band

With the expansion of the Music Department, our high school band has grown to more than 60 members. Under the direction of Frank Muccigrosso, the band entertained us at many concerts. The favorite number was the St. Louis Blues March. This organization certainly is a big credit to our school.

This organization is composed of Seventh and Eighth graders, under the direction of Mr. Muccigrosso. This is excellent training not only in itself, but for the step upward—Senior Band.

Junior High Band

Senior High Orchestra

The Senior High Orchestra continues to grow and to play better under the direction of Mrs. Mayer. This year they played for Oklahoma! Their quality is a definite asset to our school.

Junior High Orchestra

If you enjoy music, then you surely like the Junior High Orchestra, also directed by Mrs. Mayer. Just wait until these boys and girls are Seniors—with Mrs. Mayer to help them.

World Affairs Council

Close to forty students, under the direction of Mr. Saul, took an active part in the panel discussions and reports of the World Affairs Council. The group joined the Buffalo Council on Foreign Relations and was a member of the Suburban Youth Discussion Council, working with Hamburg, West Seneca and East Aurora. The Council's goal—to make better-informed citizens through study of local, national and international problems.

The Senior Dramatic club, under the direction of Mr. Philip Snyder, fills a real need in our school. They learned how to apply make-up as well as to act and they learned how to read in public.

Senior Dramatic Club

National Honor Society

This society honors those Juniors and Seniors who have fulfilled the requirements of scholarship, leadership, character and service. New members are tapped each fall and spring—their names are known only by the advisers, Miss Bardey and Mrs. Dickson. The tapping assemblies are highlights of the year. An alumni association has been formed to keep records of graduate members. Election to the N.H.S. is the finest honor a student in our school can win.

Student Council

The Student Council is the service group at Orchard Park Central. They serve the school, the student body and the community. They conduct class elections, the assemblies and have charge of community drives in the school. Their reward —a feeling of personal pride in a job well done.

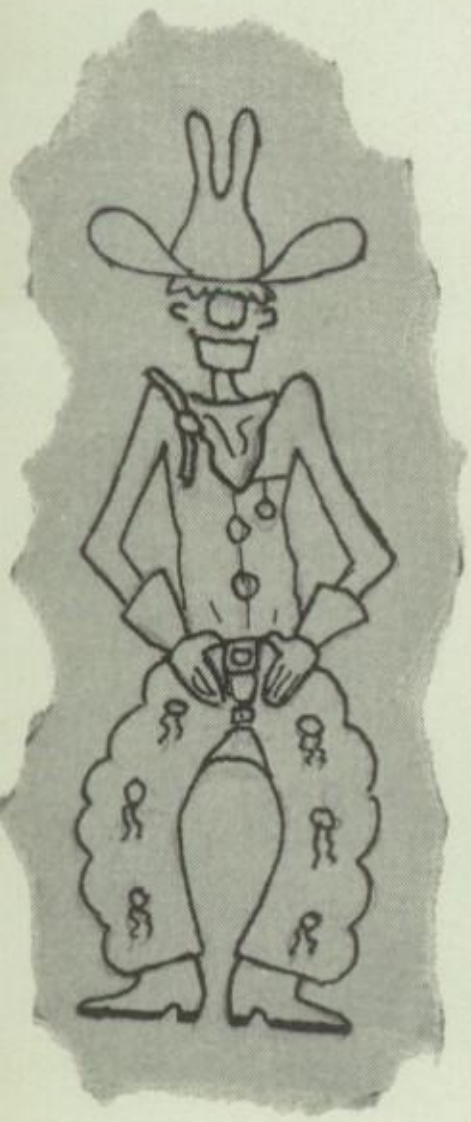
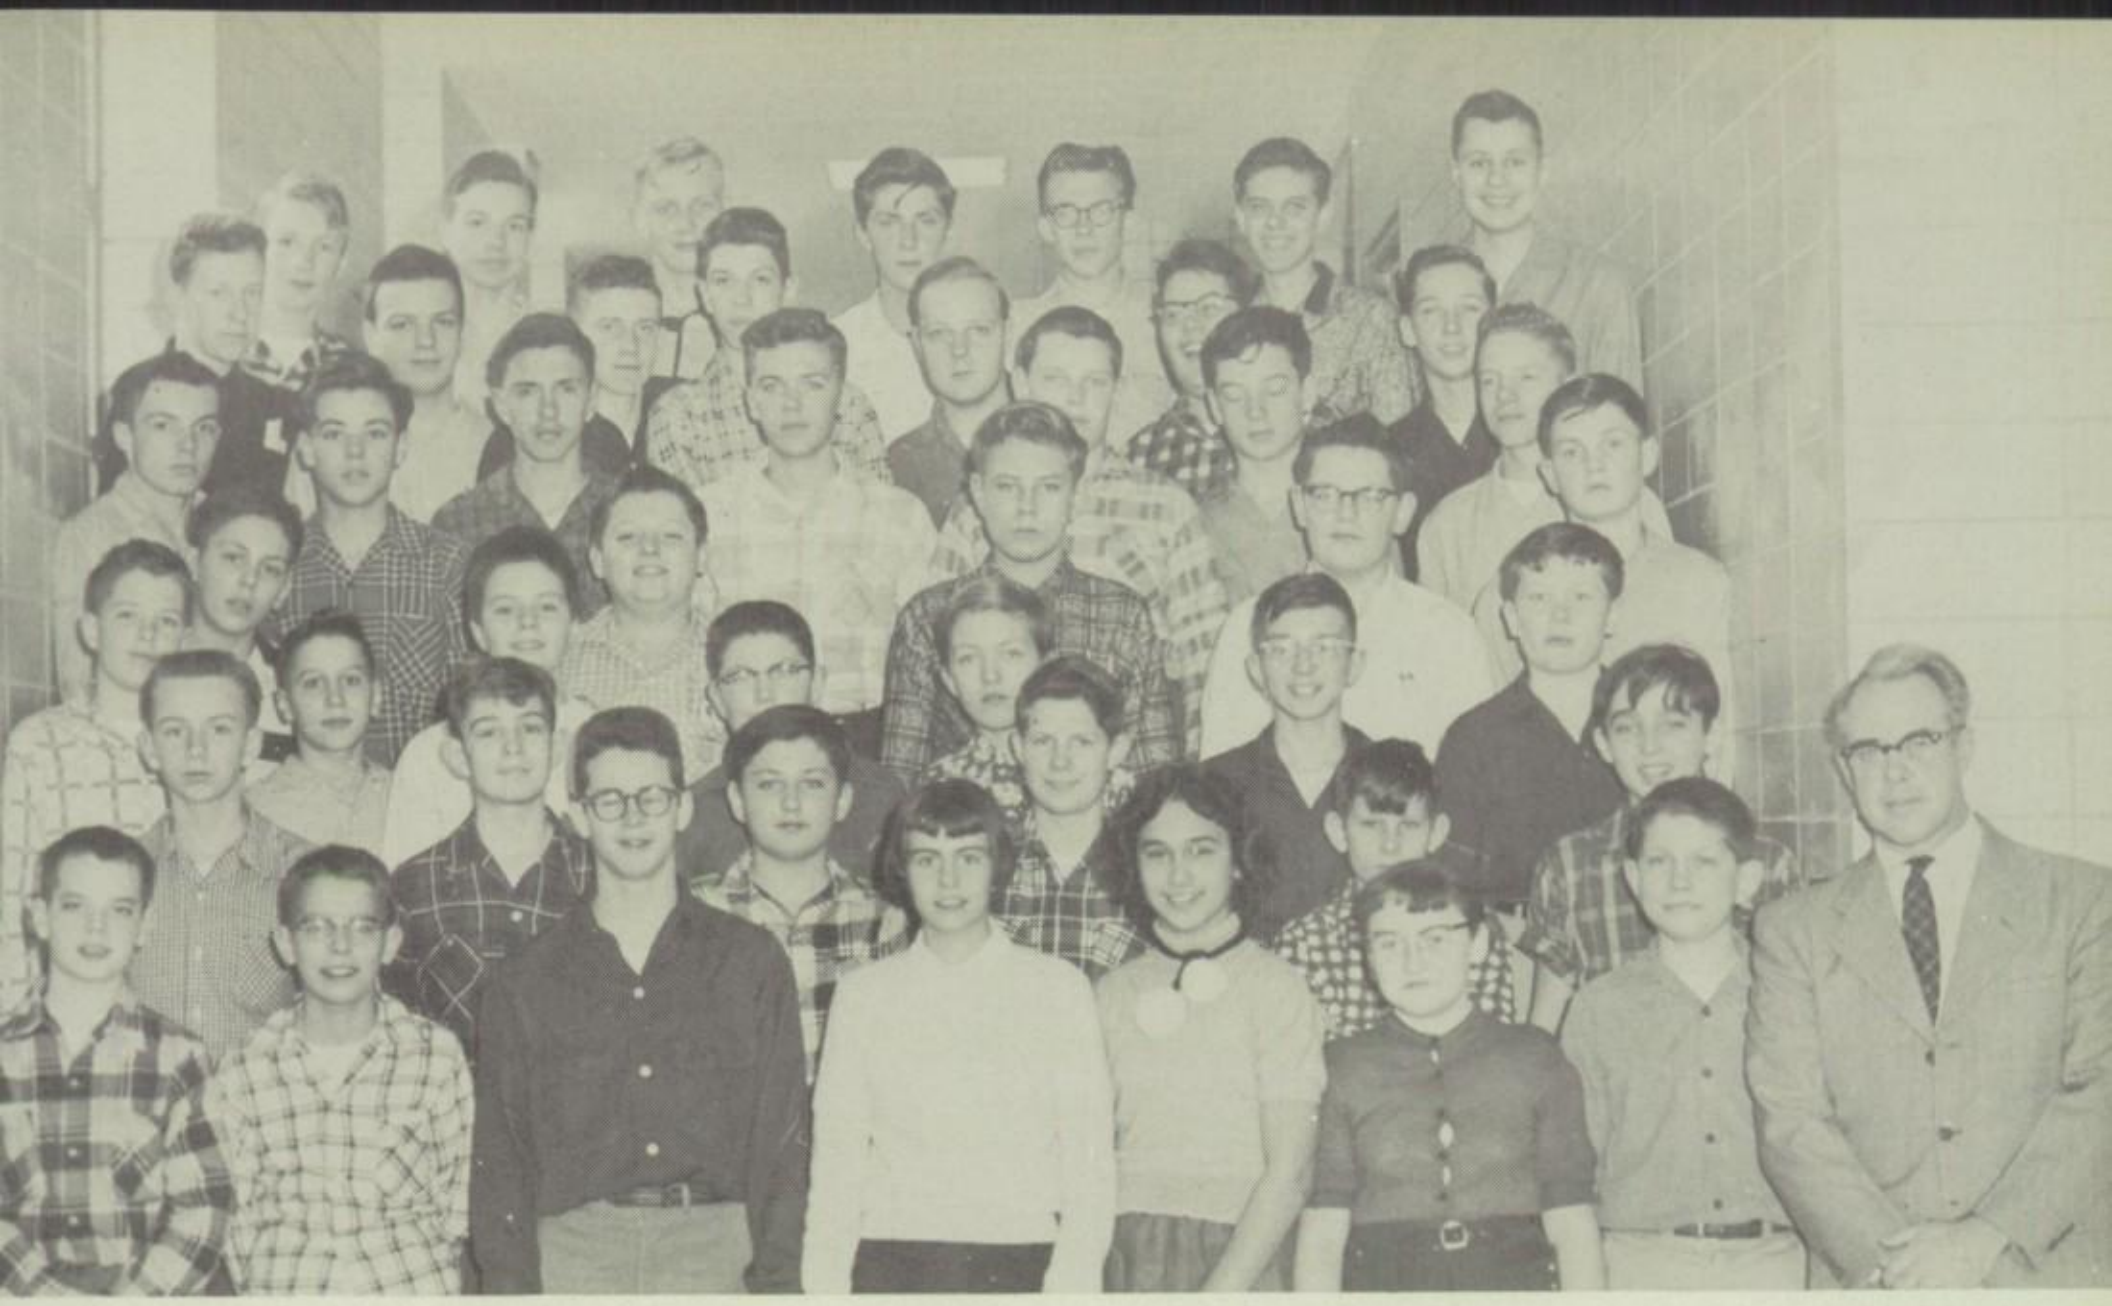
"Oklahoma"



The musical, Oklahoma, presented by our Music Department this year kept up the high tradition set by this group. A musical like this meant many hours of rehearsals, much hard work by the stage crew and let us not forget the tremendous job of directing by members of the Music Department. They had to call upon the Art Department, Miss Czurles for dance direction and the Industrial Art teachers. Even though the many rehearsals were long and drawn out, when the cast was asked if they had fun the reply was "yeow! we shore did!"



A-V Club

Members of the A-V Club assist teachers in operating all audio-visual equipment. They have a general knowledge of the machinery and are capable of setting up and running the projectors. They also learn to locate minor trouble in the equipment, in other words, it is very worth while training.

Science Club

Science Club is for Ninth graders who are interested in promoting and developing their curiosity about the world. They certainly do enjoy their work.

Bachelors' Club

Bachelors' Club is composed of high school boys who are interested in learning how to cook and sew. They did much to improve their knowledge of homemaking. The delicious aromas of their pizza and waffles made all our mouths water.

F.H.A.

Junior Future Homemakers of America is an organization through which the high school girls learn the fundamentals of homemaking. From souffles to cross stitch and ironing to knit one, purl two, these girls are given a chance to increase their skills in handcraft, house-work and social entertaining.

The purpose of the Camera Club is to further its members' knowledge, skill, and enjoyment of photography. The group sponsors the annual photography exhibition; it helps supply the pictures for the yearbook, the newspaper, etc. Mr. Holmwood has done a fine job teaching and guiding the girls and boys in this organization.

Camera Club

Future Teachers Association

The Future Teachers Association is becoming more and more active every year. One purpose of the club is to give its members an opportunity actually to teach students. This organization has answered the problems of many people who were undecided about teaching as a career.

Le Cercle Francaise

Le Cercle Francais, new name of the French Club, is trying to uphold the purposes for which it was created. Tureen suppers, scavenger hunts, and just plain social gatherings, all "in French", mark the objectives of Le Cercle Francais.

El Circulo Espanol

Not only do the Spanish students apply what they learn in their classes, but they also have a lot of fun in Spanish Club. They have tureen suppers, pinatas at Christmas, scavanger hunts, riotous initiations, and Spanish movies.

Junior Art Clubs

This year there are two Junior Art Clubs; one under the direction of Mr. Diggins and the other under Miss Sager's able guidance. Interesting projects keynote their activities.

Jets

JETS—or Junior Engineers' Training School—is a new organization patterned after national Jets' groups. The club is directed by Mr. Geddes.

Rifle Club

Aim—not just the bull's eye but safety in handling of firearms on the range and in the field. Stresses competition between both boys and girls.

Rifle Team

Second place in the league last year—trying hard this year. Open to all Rifle Club members with unusual ability.

Industrial Arts Club

To supplement the skills learned in Industrial Arts class interested boys are learning to apply their skill in the Industrial Arts Club, under the direction of Mr. Bailey.

Latin Club

It is the object of the Latin Club to combine class work with the interesting historical background of ancient Rome. The many activities give a better understanding of the language and the people who spoke it. Our tureen suppers and parties rounded out a very exciting year.

Athletic Association

It is the duty of the Athletic Association to help promote all athletic events. The members are students who, by selling tickets and refreshments at all the games, enable the school to buy new uniforms and equipment. This group deserves the thanks of the whole school.

On, On To Victory...

You must be pretty hard to please if you can't find a sport to suit you at O.P.C.S. This year we added two more, a brand new pool open to every student and the new track, for those who love to run. We always have a scrappy football team; this year's basketball team beat the best around us, there is golf and baseball and cross country. There are even some unused tennis courts. Junior High boys have football; our huge gym easily becomes two, and the girls play basketball and volleyball. They also have field hockey and baseball.

The largest Quaker squad ever to don practice uniforms, 75 boys put the football spirit into our school. The team rode a wave of victory until meeting East Aurora, who beat them in a 6-0 heartbreaker to take the championship. The team never took a drink of water during the game—a sign that they were determined to win.

Dubbed the "darkhorses" of their section by pre-season soothsayers, the Quakers set out to prove that they could beat all comers. They started like they were unconquerable and then a slump of five straight defeats almost ended all hope. As Orchard Park fans had just about given up, the Quakers again caught fire! This time they went all the way, beating Hamburg in the regular season final to win the cup for their respective division.

The team came to the peak of their ability when they met the Division II, Double A champion, Williamsville. In a game that was expected to be a close one, the spirited Maroon and White played a spectacular team game to win easily.

Often forgotten in the shuffle of excitement and school spirit accompanying every Junior Varsity and Varsity game is this year's Freshman basketball team. Their record shows that the Freshmen lost their first seven games, but hidden in won-lost column is the fact that they were lost by the unbelievable total of 22 points, or an average of a little more than three points a game. After these heartbreakers, the club settled down nicely and all indications point to a good JV team in '56.
